

Please leave XM along. We are a free country and should have the choice of listening to what ever type of broadcast source we choose. I drive over 1,000 miles per week and cover a large area, with XM radio I don't have to continually search for new stations, I can go right to the station I know and get the information I need and spend more time concentrating on my driving instead of searching the dial.

I don't need someone deciding for me; please I'll make my own decisions.
